

The Wanamaker Store

Store Closes at 6 P. M.

Men's Heavy OVERCOATS And Winter-weight Raincoats

Yesterday settled the matter for a great many men. The Winter Overcoat must be secured immediately. The Wanamaker Clothing stocks present one of the most interesting points for selection to be found in New York City. Our new and enlarged store has been filled with the broadest stocks which we have ever assembled. The collection is comprehensive of every good and handsome style that the season offers. There are fitted and semi-fitted overcoats in all the various lengths, and in all the favored fabrics.

Prices range from the handsomest and best-made overcoats in New York City at $15, up to the luxurious silk-lined beaver cloth or genuine Montagnac overcoats, at $60.

Of particular interest for days like yesterday are the new Storm Coats of medium-weight double-faced Oxford and black rainproof cloths. They are warm enough for wear on a cold day. They give protection from the rain, and yet they have none of the usual characteristics which prescribe the ordinary raincoat for rainy weather only. Shoulders and sleeves are lined with satin. Price, $35.

Main floor, Wanamaker Building.

Warm Pajamas for Men.

Cold weather is here to stay, and comfort-loving men will appreciate the warmth of these soft, fleecy Domet Pajamas made of a quality of cotton flannel usually found in pajamas costing double. All patterns are our own selections, and our models provide fullness and roominess. Three grades—$1, $1.25 and $1.50.

Main floor, Wanamaker Building.

A Wonderful Variety Of Women's Tailored Suits

The Wanamaker stocks of Women's Suits and Dresses are distinguished by the fact that no commonplace styles are to be found here. Each individual model has been specially planned, and this applies as fully to the suits at $16.75, as it does to the elegant imported suits at $135. Practically all our suits and dresses are designed after ideas secured from best foreign models. The idea may be simplified so as to be quite inexpensive, but it gives the suit a character and originality which well-dressed women thoroughly appreciate.

The variety at the present time is almost unlimited, which means the most satisfying selection possible.

Here are descriptions of suits at popular prices:

Four different styles of Suits at $25. Of cheviot and broadcloth; short, single-breasted fitted jacket; one style trimmed with braid, the other plaited, with vest of velvet and semi-fitting Eton jacket, trimmed with piping of silk. Gored skirts, plaited.
Suits of cheviot; three-quarter length fitted coat; seams giving the effect of shield front; lined through with satin. Gored skirts, each gore with double side-plait. At $30.
Suits of satin finish cloth; short, front jacket; seams giving the effect of shield front; lined through with satin. Gored skirts, each gore with double side-plait. At $35.
Suits of broadcloth; short blouse with peplum; trimmed with braid ornaments; collar and vest of velvet braided; sleeves finished with straps of cloth; velvet cuffs. Gore skirt plaited in clusters. At $36.
Suits of large checked suitings; manish nine-button cutaway coat; velvet collar lined with taffeta silk. Skirt gored, side-plaited. At $38.
Suits of broadcloth; three-quarter length blouse coat; fitted plaited back trimmed with velvet, wide and narrow braid; vest of embroidered velvet, sleeves plaited, giving a cuff effect; coat lined through with taffeta silk. Skirt gored with box and side-plaited panels. At $35.
Third floor, Stewart Building.

Hand-Made French Blouses. Our Own Importations.

Dainty, dressy, becoming, practical, suitable for afternoon and evening—these, and other merits, have made the waists almost indispensable to particular women. Then, too, the great variety of fabrics and colors, and the moderate prices, make choice easy. Our assortment of Blouses is extremely large, showing best Parisian models.
Of lawn or batiste; long and short sleeves; embroidered and lace-trimmed; button in back; at $7.50 to $12.50.
Of handkerchief linen, batiste or cotton, with more elaborate embroidery; some trimmed with real lace; at $15 to $125.
Of all-over lace; some trimmed with real lace, at $25 to $100.
Little French Store, Fourth floor, Stewart Building.

Fine English Suitings For Women's Tailored Gowns

We show today a very handsome group of fine shepherd-check suitings, made as only the English makers seem to be able to produce them. They are in patterns similar to those found in fabrics for men. In different sizes of shepherd checks of black-and-white, navy blue-and-white, brown-and-white and white with small black line plaids. They make very stylish tailor-made suits for day-time wear. 46 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.

We also show today a group of gray mixt plaid suitings for stylish tailor-made gowns. They are in gray mixtures, in medium and large plaids, some having line over-plaids in garnets and greens. 48 inches wide, $1 a yard. A quality that usually sells at $1.25.

Second floor, Broadway, Stewart Building.

Young Women's and Children's School Hats, Greatly Reduced.

These pretty hats have been crowded out of their usual place, so the prices have suffered a sharp pinch. Stormy days play havoc with girls' hats; here is an opportunity to secure two at the usual price of one. Scores of smart styles to choose from, but we mention only two.

Cheyenne Hats at 50c, were $1 and $1.25.
Trimmed Continentals at $1, were $1.75 and $2.
Basement, Stewart Building.

Kimonos and Robes.

Cozy, comfortable garments for chilly mornings and evenings, in various styles, materials and colors, at moderate prices:
Blanket Robes, in various colors and styles at $3.50 to $5.
Ripple Elderdown Robes, in plain colors, at $4.50 to $6.50.
Flannel or German Flannel Kimonos, at $1.50 to $4.50.
Albatross Kimonos, in plain colors, at $5 and $6.75.
French Flannel Kimonos, in plain colors, at $11.50 and $12.75.
Imported Terry Cloth Robes, at $4.50 to $6.75.
Fourth floor, Broadway and Tenth street, Stewart Building.

Men's Winter-weight Overcoats From $14.75 Up to $42.50.

IN these splendid Coats you will find value-reasons for the remarkable growth of this Men's Clothing business—a growth necessitating double space for the department. To that end, the recent removal of the stocks of men's apparel from the second floor to the fifth.

Clothing manufacturers who rank among the foremost in America supply our stocks. We do not control their output. They supply other good clothing stores, but their product invariably commands much higher prices in other stores. For example, the Overcoats we sell at $14.75 sell elsewhere at $18.00 and $20.00. Comparisons, throughout the line, will show equal or greater differences between the prices prevailing in other stores and the prices ruling here.

Need we remind you that we welcome such comparisons?

Luxurious Fur-lined Overcoats for Men.

Garments far above the average because they are made by tailors and furriers who work together under the same roof and are members of an organization devoted to the production of Fur-lined Coats—and only Fur-lined Coats.

Ordinarily such Coats are made under conditions quite different. One establishment of tailors turns out the fabric shells of the garments while the fur linings are put in by an entirely different concern, often located in a different section of the city.

If the good work the tailor has done suffers at the hands of the furrier the tailor never knows it.

With this new coat-making organization things are different. The workers co-operate, and when they complete a Coat the work is done to the liking of both tailor and furrier.

With one exception noted, the shells of the garments mentioned here are made of finest quality imported broadcloths. All Persian lamb collars are Leipzig-dyed.

$39.50—Natural muskrat lining, entire skins; collar of Persian lamb or black brook mink.
$37.50—Natural muskrat lining, collar of otter; same coat with Persian lamb collar at $35.50.
$74.50—Blended muskrat lining, entire skins; collar of Persian lamb.
$82.50—Blended muskrat lining, small skins; collar of Persian lamb.
$112.50—Blended muskrat lining, selected backs of skins; Persian lamb collar.
$127.50—Natural muskrat lining, selected dark backs; collar of natural mink; same coat with Persian lamb collar and facing, $134.50.
$144.50—Natural southern mink lining, collar of Persian lamb.
$199.50—Natural Alaska mink lining, selected Persian lamb collar; same coat with natural eastern otter collar, $199.50.
$224.50—Natural French civet lining, collar of selected seal otter.
$74.50—Rainproof Fur-lined Coats made of cravenetted cloth lined with natural muskrat; Persian lamb collar and mink cuffs.

Three Special Groups of Handsome Coats for Women.

$25.74 BLACK VELOUR COAT, 30 inches long, snug-fitting; collarless neck trimmed with silk; entire garment trimmed with Hercules braid and lined with gray satin.
$22.74 SNUG-FITTING COAT made of splendid quality panne cheviot; 50 inches long; shawl collar of peau de soie; lined throughout with black satin.
$19.74 BLACK BROADCLOTH COAT, full draping model, 50 inches long; collarless neck, full sleeves, satin lining throughout. This is an elaborately braided coat suitable for street or evening wear.

As a protection against sleet, rain-coats stand out strong. The melting snow runs off, not in.

Of our own all wool fabrics which we can and do guarantee fast color—cravenetted. Rain-coats, $18 to $35.
